I own a number of sites to the immediate West of the Church in Quilty, these are within the settlement boundary but currently are marked as "agricultural" in the draft development plan, the settlement boundary also cuts across the middle of the sites rather than follow the existing boundary. The land itself has residential properties across the road, to the east (adjacent to the church (C2)) and further to the west. The land itself is served by the local sewerage network and water directly to the road in front. Can this land be considered also for Residential within the current draft development plan.
